

NEW CONGRESS WILL ENACT A BONUS BILL

STRONG ENOUGH TO OVERRIDE ANY PRE- SIDENTIAL VETO

Revealed Today by a Comprehensive Tabulation Made by the United Press of the Adjusted Compensation Strength in the Senate Election Tuesday

Careful Poll Shows that 67 Senators are in Favor of Adjusted Compensation, 27 are Against It, and the Position of Two is Unknown

Washington, Nov. 10.—A new congress will override any presidential veto of the soldier bonus bill, thus assuring its enactment, it was revealed today by a comprehensive tabulation by the United Press of the adjusted compensation strength in the senate election Tuesday.

A careful poll of the senate as it will be constituted after next March 4th, based on votes of the old senators in the present congress and on measures made by the new members during the campaign, showed that 67 senators are in favor of adjusted compensation, 27 are against it, and the position of two are unknown.

A total of 67 votes for the bonus is three more than two-thirds of the senate—the number required to override a veto.

In the house, which overrode President Harding's veto of the measure last September shortly before the senate blocked the measure, was sustaining the executive objection, and sentiment is still overwhelmingly in favor of the bill.

IRISH INSURGENTS SPREAD GUERRILLA WAR THRU DUBLIN

VOLLEY AFTER VOLLEY FIRED
BY REBELS INTO PORTO
BELLO

CITIZENS BARRICADED THEIR HOMES AND STORES FOR PROTECTION

(By United Press.)
Dublin, Nov. 10.—Two civilians were killed as Irish insurgents spread guerrilla warfare through Dublin today.

Volley after volley was fired by the rebels into Porto Bello and Wellington barracks at midnight. Streets echoed all night long with the sound of firing. Citizens barricaded their stores and homes, bringing back scenes of the 1916 rebellion.

Free State troops, whose leaders a few days ago declared the republicans were "whipped" substantiated their statement against the onslaught on Suffolk street, insurgent headquarters, after a six hours fight.

"DEMOCRAT SUCCESS WAS INEVITABLE"

SAID WILLIAM J. McADOO IN STATEMENT ISSUED
TODAY

(By United Press.)
Los Angeles, Nov. 10.—Democratic success at the polls last Tuesday was inevitable because republican leaders have failed to interpret correctly the sentiment and opinion of the country, William G. McAdoo, democratic presidential possibility, charged in a statement issued here today.

"The administration has been reactionary, is narrow, provincial, and uninspiring from the outset," he declared. "It has made no appeal to the great moral and spiritual forces without which no nation can endure."

$35,000,000 HEIRESS TO MARRY POOR MAN

Chicago, Nov. 10.—Delora Angell, 19, and niece and heiress to the $35,000,000 estate of "Million Dollar" Gates, will marry Lester Norris, poor artist and son of the village undertaker of St. Charles, Illinois, in the spring.

London Cut Off From Constantinople

FINDING SEATS FOR NORTHWEST'S NEW CONGRESSMEN NOT DIFFICULT

D. D. MEREDITH
(United Press Staff Correspondent.)
St. Paul, Nov. 10.—Finding seats for the northwest's new contingent to congress will not be difficult.

They are pretty apt to align themselves with the democrats.

Lynn J. Frazier and Dr. Henrik Shipstead, elected to the senate from North Dakota and Minnesota, are admittedly the strongest men in the non-partisan league today—but neither is a radical. They are very much the same type of non-partisan as Senator E. F. Ladd of Fargo, elected two years ago. They are all former republicans.

Frazier is the only "dirt farmer" of the trio. Senator Ladd up to the time of his election was an agriculturist with the North Dakota farm school at Fargo. Dr. Shipstead, a dentist, was elected to the Minnesota legislature from Greenwood and served one term.

The only "radical" of the new lineup is Knud Wefald, who succeeds Halvor Steenerson to congress from the 9th district. Wefald is an out and out socialist and proud of it. His election was a much bigger surprise in Minnesota than the defeat of Senator Frank B. Kellogg by Dr. Shipstead. The non-partisan league program has never included a congressional effort. Non-partisan league leaders have always held their program is to be carried out through state legislature and not through congress. Neither the non-partisan senators or congressmen are expected to carry their program to the floor of the house or senate, but they will work for farm and labor legislation.

RUMORS OF SERIOUS TROUBLE IN NEAR EAST CIRCULATED

CABINET OF BRITAIN CALLED TOGETHER AT TEN O'CLOCK

ANGORA GOVERNMENT DEMAND
NULLIFICATION OF ALL
"CAPITULATIONS"

(By United Press.)
London, Nov. 10.—London was cut off from communication with Constantinople today.

Rumors of serious trouble in the Near East ran unchecked with the foreign office, lacking official advice, powerless to deny them.

The cabinet was called together at 10 o'clock to consider the situation. What the Turks are driving at in their arrogant assumption of authority over the allies in the straits has at least been made clear.

The Angora government demands nullification of all "capitulations" arising from the great war. It considers that victory over Greece has wiped out all loss sustained by the sultan's government.

"We are an autonomous nation," Ferid Bey, nationalist representative at Paris declared in a bellicose statement, "We do not recognize any penalties incurred by the sultan's government."

Kemal Sends New Note
Athens, Nov. 10.—Mustapha Kemal today sent a new note to the allies insisting that they evacuate Constantinople immediately, according to dispatches received here. Italian subjects are leaving Constantinople already.

Paris, Nov. 10.—Marshal Foch, allied commander-in-chief during the war, today conferred with Premier Poincare regarding military measures to be taken in view of the Near East crisis.

NEW COUNTY CHOSEN IN MINNESOTA

Bemidji, Nov. 10.—A new county was chosen in Minnesota Tuesday. Voters of Beltrami county by a small majority decided to divide the province and the north half will now become Lake of the Woods county. After the canvassing board meets, Governor Preus will proclaim the division of the county, and it will be organized.

JOHNSON MAY ASK RECOUNT

St. Paul, Nov. 10.—Magnus Johnson, nonpartisan, will ask for a recount of the vote on governor in Minnesota if final returns show the results as close as it now stands, he told the United Press today.

With at least 200 precincts to be heard from, the lead of Governor Preus had been cut below 8,000 in unofficial returns.

Shopmen's Side of Controversy As Given by Publicity Committee

STRIKE ENTERS FIFTH MONTH;
SHOPMEN MAKE STEADY GAINS

By CLINT C. HOUSTON

Chicago, Nov. 1.—On November 1st began the fifth month of the railroad shopmen's strike, which has now been on for 123 days, involving more than 500,000 employees directly and approximately 1,500,000 other indirectly. Since August 5, when the railway executives rejected a plan of settlement proposed by the President of the United States and accepted by representatives of the men who had suspended work on July 1, it has been in fact and continues to be a lockout on those roads which have refused to make settlements.

Under a plan of settlement later agreed to at a conference in Baltimore between representatives of employees and certain carriers, there has been to this date 126 system agreements reached and at least half of the men who suspended work have returned to their jobs. While some managements have refused to negotiate terms, and others are stalling along in the hope that the men will surrender, a majority of the hold-outs will sign up within a short time, because this action alone will insure continued profitable operation of their lines.

Important Lines Settle

Among the important settlements made during the past week was with the Minneapolis, St. Paul & Sault Ste. Marie, or Soo Line, one of the big carriers of the northwest, which with its subsidiaries has a mileage of 4,348. The St. Litchfield & Madison also made settlements with their employees. In all settlements made the firemen and oilers are parties to the agreements and return to work with the shopmen.

Other roads that have signed up are: Atlantic & St. Lawrence, Chesapeake & Ohio, Chicago, Detroit & Grand Trunk Junction; Chicago, Milwaukee & Gary; Chicago, Terre Haute & Southeastern; Cincinnati, Saginaw & Mackinac; Colorado & Wyoming; Colorado, Wyoming & Eastern; Cumberland & Pennsylvania; Detroit, Grand Haven & Milwaukee; Fort Worth Belt; Joint Car Inspectors' Association of St. Louis; Lewiston & Auburn; Louisiana & Arkansas; Michigan Air Line; Mineral Range; New Orleans & Great Northern; Pontiac, Oxford, Saginaw & Muskegon; Tonapah & Tidewater; United States & Canada.

PERIOD OF LAX ENFORCEMENT MAY FOLLOW THE WET WAVE PREVALENT, SAYS VOLSTEAD

(By United Press.)
Granite Falls, Minn., Nov. 10.—A period of lax enforcement may follow the "wet" wave that swept the country Tuesday, Andrew J. Volstead, "father" of the dry enforcement act, and defeated for congress, told the United Press today.

"There will be a period of lax enforcement but the 18th amendment will always remain in the constitution of the United States," he said.

"The wets and near wets have made a tremendous advance during the last year. They have been partially successful, but they will stop at nothing now that a radical trend has been manifested."

"They may offer enforcement laws, they may be more successful in blocking enforcements than they have been—but they will never be able to repeal the 18th amendment."

"Fundamentally, the people of the United States are against the saloon. They have seen enough of intoxication and strong liquors. The saloon is gone forever. I believe there never again will be license selling of liquor of any kind. We may find people winking at enforcement against light wines and beer, but the people will never countenance the open return of strong drink."

Congressman Volstead will remain in Granite Falls following his defeat in the seventh district by Rev. O. J. Kvale.

"I will easily find something to do," he said. "I have no complaint to make. I am grateful to the people of this district for the willing support they have given me in the past."

Dry Enforcement Not an Issue

Benson, Minn., Nov. 10.—"Dry enforcement was not even an issue between myself and Mr. Volstead," said Rev. O. J. Kvale, congressman elect from the seventh district.

Rev. Kvale let it be known that he is just as "dry" if not "drier" than the "father of prohibition" to whose seat he succeeds.

"I was elected on economic issues," said the Norwegian Lutheran pastor, "Prohibition enforcement would never have been mentioned in my campaign if my opponent had not introduced it. Then I had to show where I stood."

"I believe in repeal of the Esch-Cummins act, downward revision of the tariff, payment of war debts out of war profits, payment of the soldiers bonus bill out of excess payment in taxes, and in taking control of the federal injunction out of Wall street. My opponent, standing on his record, had no defense on these issues. Therefore, I was elected."

For 28 years Rev. Kvale has been a preacher, for 23 years he was pastor of a church at Oxfordville, Wis. He has been pastor of the church here ever since. He may continue to hold the pastorage taking time off to attend to official duties in Washington.

PREDICTS PASSING OF INDEPENDENT VOTERS GROUP, ETC

ALSO NONPARTISAN LEAGUE AS POLITICAL FACTORS IN NORTH DAKOTA

BOTH MAY BE ABSORBED BY THE
OLDER PARTIES, REPUBLICAN
AND DEMOCRATIC

A. B. BRAINERD
(United Press Staff Correspondent.)
Fargo, N. D., Nov. 10.—The passing of the Independent voters association and the non-partisan league as political factors in North Dakota was predicted by leaders of those organizations today.

Both bodies have served their purpose, and are done, it was said.

Future elections will probably see a return to old party fights, they predicted.

"There will never be another fight between the non-partisan league and the I. V. A.," one of the oldest non-partisans in the state declared.

He urged that his name be withheld because of the effect his statement might have.

"There will never be pure independents nor pure non-partisans league candidates in the field again."

Non-partisan leaders, claiming victory, said the league had attained its aims in the state. They have their program on the statute books, they said, and it is not likely to be repealed.

"This election shows that people never regress," said this leader. "The voters of the state want the league program. They have upheld it every time any part of it has been referred to them for approval or disapproval. They recalled the non-partisan administration because of political mistakes it made. The officers were pioneers in inaugurating a great industrial reform, and they would not have been human had they been infallible, but the program remains."

League republicans and those followers of Senator P. J. McCumber known as stalwarts are expected to drift back into the republican party. The fact that the I. V. A. failed to support McCumber in the primary against Frazier has left McCumber following detached. The I. V. A.

(By United Press.)
New York, Nov. 10.—One man was killed and two desperate criminal gangs were declared broken up when 100 policemen in taxi cabs led by a woman in a limousine staged a running battle with bandits shortly before midnight in lower Manhattan.

The thugs were charged with kidnapping and liquor selling. Scores of shots were exchanged. The skirmish ended when the woman "who joined the chase for the fun of it" and refused to identify herself to police they said, chased one fugitive into a Chinese laundry and captured him as he was trying to buy a disguise.

2 STUNT AVIATORS DROP 500 FEET

Beaumont, Texas, Nov. 10.—Mrs. Ben Jackson and R. E. Barry, Houston, stunt aviators, were probably fatally injured today when an airplane in which they had just taken off fell five hundred feet. The two victims were extricated by persons attracted to the scene. Both were unconscious an hour later.

which has been drawing support from both democratic and republican ranks since its inauguration is expected to dissolve or at least be completely reorganized. If it reorganizes it will have to face the disapproval of those who helped elect Frazier senator and those who supported McCumber in the primaries without organization help.

The I. V. A. probably will attempt to reorganize the democratic party and the non-partisan league which originally "stole" the republican party, probably will disappear politically, drifting back under the heading of "republicans" in the elections.

PERIOD OF LAX ENFORCEMENT MAY FOLLOW
THE WET WAVE PREVALENT, SAYS VOLSTEAD

(By United Press.)
Granite Falls, Minn., Nov. 10.—A period of lax enforcement may follow the "wet" wave that swept the country Tuesday, Andrew J. Volstead, "father" of the dry enforcement act, and defeated for congress, told the United Press today.

"There will be a period of lax enforcement but the 18th amendment will always remain in the constitution of the United States," he said. "The wets and near wets have made a tremendous advance during the last year. They have been partially successful, but they will stop at nothing now that a radical trend has been manifested."

"They may offer enforcement laws, they may be more successful in blocking enforcement than they have been—but they will never be able to repeal the 18th amendment."

"Fundamentally, the people of the United States are against the saloon. They have seen enough of intoxication and strong liquors. The saloon is gone forever. I believe there never again will be license selling of liquor of any kind. We may find people winking at enforcement against light wines and beer, but the people will never countenance the open return of strong drink."

Congressman Volstead will remain in Granite Falls following his defeat in the seventh district by Rev. O. J. Kvale.

"I will easily find something to do," he said. "I have no complaint to make. I am grateful to the people of this district for the willing support they have given me in the past."

Dry Enforcement Not an Issue

Benson, Minn., Nov. 10.—"Dry enforcement was not even an issue between myself and Mr. Volstead," said Rev. O. J. Kvale, congressman elect from the seventh district.

Rev. Kvale let it be known that he is just as "dry" if not "drier" than the "father of prohibition" to whose seat he succeeds.

"I was elected on economic issues," said the Norwegian Lutheran pastor. "Prohibition enforcement would never have been mentioned in my campaign if my opponent had not introduced it. Then I had to show where I stood."

"I believe in repeal of the Esch-Cummings act, downward revision of the tariff, payment of war debts out of war profits, payment of the soldiers bonus bill out of excess payment in taxes, and in taking control of the federal injunction out of Wall street. My opponent, standing on his record, had no defense on these issues. Therefore, I was elected."

For 28 years Rev. Kvale has been a preacher, for 23 years he was pastor of a church at Oxfordville, Wis. He has been pastor of the church here ever since. He may continue to hold the pastorage taking time off to attend to official duties in Washington.

PREDICTS PASSING OF INDEPENDENT
VOTERS GROUP, ETC

ALSO NONPARTISAN LEAGUE AS POLITICAL FACTORS IN
NORTH DAKOTA

BOTH MAY BE ABSORBED BY THE
OLDER PARTIES, REPUBLICAN
AND DEMOCRATIC

A. B. BRAINERD
(United Press Staff Correspondent.)
Fargo, N. D., Nov. 10.—The passing of the independent voters association and the non-partisan league as political factors in North Dakota was predicted by leaders of those organizations today.

Both bodies have served their purpose, and are done, it was said. Future elections will probably see a return to old party fights, they predicted.

"There will never be another fight between the non-partisan league and the I. V. A." one of the oldest non-partisans in the state declared.

He urged that his name be withheld because of the effect his statement might have.

"There will never be pure independents nor pure non-partisans league candidates in the field again."

Non-partisan leaders, claiming victory, said the league had attained its aims in the state. They have their program on the statute books, they said, and it is not likely to be repealed.

"This election shows that people never regress," said this leader. "The voters of the state want the league program. They have upheld it every time any part of it has been referred to them for approval or disapproval. They recalled the non-partisan administration because of political mistakes it made. The officers were pioneers in inaugurating a great industrial reform, and they would not have been human had they been infallible, but the program remains."

League republicans and those followers of Senator P. J. McCumber known as stalwarts are expected to drift back into the republican party. The fact that the I. V. A. failed to support McCumber in the primary against Frazier has left McCumber following detached. The I. V. A.

(By United Press.)
New York, Nov. 10.—One man was killed and two desperate criminal gangs were declared broken up when 100 policemen in taxi cabs lead by a woman in a limousine staged a running battle with bandits shortly before midnight in lower Manhattan.

The thugs were charged with kidnapping and liquor selling. Scores of shots were exchanged. The skirmish ended when the woman "who joined the chase for the fun of it" and refused to identify herself to police they said, chased one fugitive into a Chinese laundry and captured him as he was trying to buy a disguise.

2 STUNT AVIATORS
DROP 500 FEET

Beaumont, Texas, Nov. 10.—Mrs. Ben Jackson and R. E. Barry, Houston, stunt aviators, were probably fatally injured today when an airplane in which they had just taken off fell five hundred feet. The two victims were extricated by persons attracted to the scene. Both were unconscious an hour later.

which has been drawing support from both democratic and republican ranks since its inauguration is expected to dissolve or at least be completely reorganized. If it reorganizes it will have to face the disapproval of those who helped elect Frazier senator and those who supported McCumber in the primaries without organization help.

The I. V. A. probably will attempt to reorganize the democratic party and the non-partisan league which originally "stole" the republican party, probably will disappear politically, drifting back under the heading of "republicans" in the elections.

SHEIK EMMANUEL TO SPEAK IN CITY

Experienced Chautauqua and Lyceum
Lecturer to Take Pulpit in First Congregational Church

SUNDAY EVENING, NOVEMBER 12

St. Cloud, Enthusiastic Over His Program, Has Given Him 3 Engagements This Winter

A sheik in the wild lands of Mesopotamia and a lineal descendant of one of the kings of ancient Babylon Raphael Emmanuel, Babylonian, is in through this branch of the family that the descent from Nebuchadnezzar of Biblical fame, is traced.

The sheik displays many of the physical characteristics of his moving picture prototype and that described in popular songs of today, who have made the Arabian prince the idol of many American women. His dark hair, combed carefully back from his forehead, grows down the sides of his face to form the sideburns which are considered necessary for the type. His eyes are dark enough to satisfy the most exacting flapper, and his olive complexion combines with his Roman nose to complete the picture.

Emmanuel had heard of the outside world and when he came into his estate he sold the flock of sheep and the horses, which were his heritage.

under the rule of Turkey, the only power the Turks exercise is the collection of taxes from the tribes which they can reach. The conduct of the tribes and their relations with each other are matters of supreme indifference to the Ottoman power.

Each tribe, it is explained, is controlled by its ruler, without written laws, and the relations between the tribes are determined by fighting when an amicable settlement of difference cannot be effected. Personal quarrels are often settled by knives.

Most of the tribes are followers of Mohamet. The Babylonians, although acknowledging the divinity of Christ, have a form of religion entirely different from the Christian religion as practiced by Europeans and Americans.

Brainerd, after a summer on the chautauqua and lyceum platform, where he has been explaining the customs, religions and governments of his native land to American audiences.

Sheik Emmanuel will speak Sunday evening, November 12th, at 7:30 in the First Congregational church. His subject will be "Mesopotamia Today". He appeared before the Minnesota Teachers Association convention in St. Cloud, October 27th, where he was introduced to Superintendent W. C. Cobb through a letter from Rev. George Phil Sheridan, former Brainerd pastor. Rev. Sheridan speaks very highly of the sheik's address, which was given at the Congregational church in Fairbault recently.

St. Cloud is so enthusiastic over Emmanuel's program, that he has been given three dates for that city this winter. He speaks at the St. Cloud Normal January 12th, St. Cloud high school November 24th, and in the Methodist church of that city on Sunday, November 24th, and in the Methodist church of that city on Sunday, November 26th.

Sheik Emmanuel was made the head of his tribe, he says, when his father, who was high priest, died. The father of Emmanuel's mother had been sheik of the tribe and it is to the Turks, the only people in the country possessing and using money, for funds to travel. He first came to the United States in 1906 and after a brief stay here, went to Germany, where he was when the World war broke out.

He was forced to come back to America through Holland and England and could enter the United States only through crossing the border from Canada.

Although he has never attended a school, the sheik speaks English, French and German in addition to many of the languages and dialects of the tribes that roam the land of his birth. This is the result of extensive travel and studying by himself, he explains.

The population of Mesopotamia, Emmanuel says, comprises hundreds of tribes of many nationalities, including, Babylonians, Turks, Assyrians and Jews. Although nominally ed at the Varner home on Pine street to help Estle Luverne celebrate his 7th birthday. The dining room was prettily decorated in orange and black paper streamers. The color scheme was carried out in little candy baskets and place cards. A delicious lunch was served which consisted of ice cream, cookies and a fine birthday cake, also popcorn and apples. Estle was presented with many nice presents and an enjoyable time was had by all. The invited guests were Robert Erickson, Lester Robertson, Howard Halvorsen, Raymond Wise, Ralph Johnson, Eugene Avery, Mae McQuillin, Annetta Erickson and Rose Gross.

THE VOICE OF DISCONTENT

The election returns are not a surprise to people in this or other states except insofar as the evidence of the spirit of dissatisfaction is greater than had been realized before the counting of the votes expressed the will of the people.

There are many reasons for this expression of dissatisfaction, but for the conditions that have caused the displeasure of the electorate politicians are not altogether to blame. The fact that the market in Europe is not calling for the produce of American farms or the products of American factories could not be changed by political decisions. And if the failure of the United States to enter into association with the nations of Europe in the League of Nations is in any way responsible for the present conditions in Europe, which in turn have had their effect upon the exports from America to those countries, the people themselves in 1920 by an unprecedented majority decided that this should be the stand of the government of the United States.

The result reflects a belief on the part of the people that congress is responsible for the deflation that has characterized the past two years. It is not necessary to go into this matter again, except to say that such a position is not founded upon an appreciation of the facts of history, nor on a recognition of the law of supply and demand.

One of the clearest facts brought to light by the election returns is seen in the lack of co-ordination of the vote of dissatisfaction. The vote went to the candidate who was voicing attacks upon the republican congress, and in doing so seated a democrat or a progressive candidate according to the ability of the candidate to appeal to the elements of discontent.

Such a trend of the times has been perceived by those who have kept in touch with the tendencies as expressed in the primary elections in the different states, and the Dispatch away back in August announced that the indications in Michigan pointed to the election of ex-Governor Woodbridge Ferris over Senator Charles E. Townsend, to have the prediction verified by the returns from Michigan.

The result in this state clearly proves that there are no very definite political principles underlying the expression of the people's will. Labor and the farmers in Minnesota are not agreed on very many things and yet they came together in voting their resentment over conditions that have seriously affected the interests of both.

The election promises two years of partisan strife, and also an attention to the will of the people who in 1924 will again express themselves on political questions. Such attention to the will of the people may make for more satisfactory government.

NATURALIZATION

THERE are many things about the present system of naturalization of aliens that suggest possible improvements. The most important of these seems to be the removal of some of the technical phases, and a recognition that Americans are made not so much by the assimilation of certain details that have to do with methods of government as by the assimilation of the principles that underlie the American government. While it would be unwise to accept citizens who give evidence of a grave failure to inform themselves of the machinery of government, it is perhaps equally unwise to refuse citizenship to those whose hearts are right. An educated alien who is admitted to citizenship may be a serious menace to this country if his heart has not responded to the vital elements of our common democracy.

To disclaim allegiance to any foreign king or potentate is not sufficient in itself; what is required is a warm and vital patriotism, and while this may be forwarded by education it is not guaranteed by education. There ought to be more emphasis upon this requirement, which may go hand in hand with the demand for greater knowledge of American institutions.

Brainerd is one of the towns that has neglected the training of those who are seeking citizenship in such a manner as to bring discredit to the community. On the range there are night schools wherein aliens are offered a training in the principles of American government and its technique. Something of this kind should be initiated in this city so that those whose attitude to the country is already right may be qualified to express that right attitude on the basis of knowledge of American institutions.

Yet another recommendation that would possibly facilitate this work lies in taking it away from the court room, or from the supervision of the judge of the district court. The duties of the court are already heavy, and the court is placed in a position wherein it is required to endorse the findings of the federal examiner. This seems to be altogether unnecessary, and a way can be found by which the naturalization of aliens is made a matter for the determination of federal examiners who are well qualified to discharge their duties.

MORE PRECINCTS

THE election in certain wards of this city showed clearly the need of increasing the number of precincts in the wards of the city. In the second and third wards in particular the number of votes cast led to a crowding of the polling places with inconvenience to the voters who were required to wait until those preceding them had cast their ballots.

Of course it would cost the city more to divide these wards, making two precincts in each, but the convenience of the voters should have consideration and it is worth noting that the time lost by those who are required to await the opportunity to vote has a not unimportant financial value.

It is already necessary to engage extra workers to take care of the counting of the ballots and this entails increased expense over what would be required for a normal force.

While election expenses are heavy, the increase that would be incurred by dividing the wards would not be vast in proportion to the present expenses entailed by elections, and such an increase would appear very small in comparison with other expenses of city government. There is considerable feeling that the electorate should not be inconvenienced in this way, and also that the public should not be required to wait such an unconscionable time for the returns from the wards of the city. The result of the election in the county was not held up because of belated returns from rural precincts but because of belated returns from the wards of Brainerd.

The electorate will expect the city council to do something to remedy this matter so that inconvenience to the voters may be prevented and a more speedy publication of the results of the election made possible.

Editor of the Dispatch:

In the interest of fair play, may I make a few comments on the speech given by J. Adam Bede at the Park theatre on Saturday night.

In his efforts to clear Senator Kellogg of the reproach of supporting the Michigan senator in his fight to retain his seat in the senate, he declared that the Newberry case was not an issue in the present campaign, and charged the opposition with what would be called cheap politics. May I say that this modern Brutus, who, no doubt is an honorable man, was himself guilty of breaking the rules of the game when he ran in a "four" on Henry Ford, a man who was farther from the issue than Truman Newberry in that he is now an "also-ran." Henry Ford is a friend of mine, though I have never met him personally. I call him such because he is a friend of humanity. For over two years it was my privilege to meet hundreds of men and women who really knew him, loved him, and understood him, and I believe that every man, woman and child who rides around in his "flivver" or who doesn't, would love him too, if they could know his ceaseless efforts to help them and all humanity. His endeavor to bring about peace, which everybody should concede was honest, whatever else it may have been, was ridiculed by the speaker, but he forgot to mention the fact that Henry Ford promptly turned his plant into a munition factory when war was declared, and built what is perhaps the largest hospital building in the world which was wholly given over to the wounded soldiers upon their return. The speaker could conveniently have left out a few "jokes" like the "murder" scene he portrayed. It may prove to be a tragedy for Minnesota if it is repeated.

J. Adam Bede had a head on Henry Ford apparently, but it wasn't a head from the Rosary. It was his privilege to tell his Republican story and honestly vindicate Mr. Kellogg if he could, but if he had been consistent, and wise, he would have known where to stop. The dominant note in his speech was splendid, applicable to all parties: "Don't go around hating folks." He said other fine things, and some very funny things.

COMMUNICATION

The following editorials from The Livingstone Enterprise, of October 19, and Oct. 28, are reproduced at the request of a group of citizens:

This is free America.
No one has denied the right of the shopmen to strike.
No one has abridged their rights in any manner.

Neither is it to be expected that they will abridge the rights of their fellow men.

Last July 1 the shopmen went on strike for what they believed to be right. Since that time—for more than three and a half months—the Enterprise has treated them fairly, publishing their side of the case just as conscientiously as it has published the other side.

In the meantime various railway companies throughout the country have settled the difference with their shop craft employees. The Northern Pacific has not settled. Officials of the Northern Pacific have offered positions to their former employees, and a large majority of the shopmen have declined to resume their former employment.

Meanwhile the Northern Pacific, finding that the former shop employees did not care to return to work under the conditions, have employed men to take their places. Exercising their inalienable rights, Livingston shopmen have for the most part refused to return to work in the local shops. That is their business. But the Northern Pacific has seen fit, in order to keep their trains moving, to employ other men to fill the places of the strikers. That is the inalienable right of the Northern Pacific.

Thus far the actions of the two parties to the controversy are of no particular concern to the public. But, as everyone knows, the railway company has found it necessary to put their new employees up in a stockade near the shops, and the strikebreakers have not dared, for fear of physical violence to leave that stockade

Such a situation cannot be tolerated. The new shop employees of the Northern Pacific are entitled to the same protection that any free born American citizen is entitled to. It is just as much their right to accept employment at the terms offered as it is the right of former shop employees to decline that employment.

The people of Livingston would be remiss in their duty if they did not use every lawful means to furnish protection to the shop workers of the Northern Pacific in this city. It would be a mark of eternal shame against the fair name of this city if we should fail to do so.

The merits of the controversy between the Northern Pacific and its employees are not under consideration here. The only point at issue is this: are the citizens of Livingston going to permit a situation wherein workers employed here are forced to be penned up because another group of citizens do not like them?

THE DAWN OF A NEW DAY

Conditions in Livingston are rapidly returning to normal, following a long strike period which has been trying not only for the parties contending but for the business men.

Now several hundred new men are employed in the local Northern Pacific shops and roundhouses, a large payroll is coming in twice each month, and the merchants are enjoying a return of prosperity. A glance through the advertising columns of today's Enterprise is sufficient evidence of the better things that have come. Merchants are putting on attractive sales which the people of Livingston undoubtedly will take full advantage of.

The new shop employees of the Northern Pacific will be interested in these sales and many will desire to avail themselves of the opportunities presented. There is no reason why they should not do so. The streets are for their use and there is now ample protection to provide assurance that they will not be interfered with by a little group of soreheads and agitators who have tried in vain to run this city for a number of years, and who now are desperate because they realize that their hold has slipped for good.

The merchants of Livingston invite the new shop employees and their families to come up town and get acquainted. It will be demonstrated that Livingston is an American city where freedom prevails and where honest, law-abiding people will be afforded every protection.

THE VOICE OF DISCONTENT

The election returns are not a surprise to people in this or other states except insofar as the evidence of the spirit of dissatisfaction is greater than had been realized before the counting of the votes expressed the will of the people.

There are many reasons for this expression of dissatisfaction, but for the conditions that have caused the displeasure of the electorate politicians are not altogether to blame. The fact that the market in Europe is not calling for the produce of American farms or the products of American factories could not be changed by political decisions. And if the failure of the United States to enter into association with the nations of Europe in the League of Nations is in any way responsible for the present conditions in Europe, which in turn have had their effect upon the exports from America to those countries, the people themselves in 1920 by an unprecedented majority decided that this should be the stand of the government of the United States.

The result reflects a belief on the part of the people that congress is responsible for the deflation that has characterized the past two years. It is not necessary to go into this matter again, except to say that such a position is not founded upon an appreciation of the facts of history, nor on a recognition of the law of supply and demand.

One of the clearest facts brought to light by the election returns is seen in the lack of co-ordination of the vote of dissatisfaction. The vote went to the candidate who was voicing attacks upon the republican congress, and in doing so seated a democrat or a progressive candidate according to the ability of the candidate to appeal to the elements of discontent.

Such a trend of the times has been perceived by those who have kept in touch with the tendencies as expressed in the primary elections in the different states, and the Dispatch away back in August announced that the indications in Michigan pointed to the election of ex-Governor Woodbridge Ferris over Senator Charles E. Townsend, to have the prediction verified by the returns from Michigan.

The result in this state clearly proves that there are no very definite political principles underlying the expression of the people's will. Labor and the farmers in Minnesota are not agreed on very many things and yet they came together in voting their resentment over conditions that have seriously affected the interests of both.

The election promises two years of partisan strife, and also an attention to the will of the people who in 1924 will again express themselves on political questions. Such attention to the will of the people may make for more satisfactory government.

ESCAPES DEATH BY A MIRACLE

Albert Beaumont in Studebaker Sedan Struck by a Switch Engine at 8th Street Crossing

CAR WHIRLED OVER 3 TIMES

Beaumont Crawled from Car by Breaking Glass, Car a Complete Wreck

A Studebaker sedan, belonging to and driven by Albert Beaumont of 1007 Kingwood street, was struck by a switch engine on the 8th street crossing about 5:30 Thursday evening. The automobile was turned over several times and badly wrecked.

Beaumont, the only occupant of the car, crawled over the front seat and broke the glass in the rear, through which he made his exit unharmed from the accident.

He claims that he did not see the switchman's warning that the engine was approaching and was his before he knew that there was any imminent danger.

NEW PARK IN FORMAL OPENING

Set for Saturday, November 11th Matinee and Evening, With a Special Feature

JACKIE COOGAN IN "TROUBLE"

Young Star Gets His Audience Right by the Heart, Squeezes Out a Sob a Minute

The New Park Theatre opens Saturday, November 11th, matinee and evening, with a big special feature in which the idol of all kids, and of every grown-up who can remember his own kid-days, Jackie Coogan, appears in "Trouble."

Every Brainerd theatre goer saw Jackie in his last picture, "My Boy." Well, he's done it again, but differently and much better. Perhaps many think of the little rascal as only a comedian. That's right, and wrong too. For "Trouble" contains some tragedy, some drama, as well as plenty of comedy. Jackie Coogan gets his audience right by the heart, squeezed a sob out one minute, then chases it away with a good laugh the next.

This is his biggest opportunity, and how he does take advantage of it. "Through five of the finest reels that the youngster has ever starred in, he holds the intense interest of every member of the audience. There isn't an uninteresting minute in the entire performance.

Jackie Coogan isn't in "Trouble" alone. Nope. When a feller needs a friend he usually finds one in his dog. That's the way the youngster feels about Queeny, a most intelligent canine who co-starred with the kid in "Peck's Bad Boy."

The little star and Queeny are both in heaps of trouble, but his little dumb friend sees the boy through to a happy finish, and you leave the theatre feeling that you're more than ever a friend of the kid, whom critics have named the "Child Mansfield". You'll also have that feeling of having spent a most interesting and enjoyable evening. You go home more than ever a friend of all the other kids in the universe, beside.

HIGH SCHOOL 6, ATHLETICS 0

Work of High School Line in Holding Opponents Showed Much Intensive Practice

HEIKKINEN 90 YARD GAIN

Last Two Quarters of Game Cut Down to 7½ Minutes Each Because of Darkness

In a practice game Wednesday evening, the high school football team defeated the Brainerd Athletics by a score of 6 to 0.

The Athletics showed considerable science and speed. They carried the ball in the first quarter to within one yard of the high school's goal from the kick-off, but in the four subsequent downs, they were unable to make the yard gain necessary for a touchdown.

The work of the high school line in holding their opponents in this manner, showed much intensive practice and a big improvement from most of their work during the season.

Heikkinen of the high school, got away for a 90 yard gain, but was called back on account of his line being offside. He made the only touchdown of the game in the second quarter.

The last two quarters of the game had to be cut down to seven and one-half minutes each on account of darkness.

This practice game was played to help put the high school eleven in better trim for the big game at Wadena at the Armistice Day celebration, Saturday.

DISTRICT COURT PROCEEDINGS

In district court Thursday afternoon, the case of Elmer E. Hartman against Frank W. Crockett was dismissed on motion of the plaintiff before it had an opportunity to get to the jury.

Friday morning case No. 15, Harry M. Adams against Maggie E. Hunt was being tried. Court however, was dismissed at noon until Monday morning, there being no sessions on Armistice day, Saturday.

The grand jury is expected to report this afternoon, but at the time of going to press were still in session. E. R. Burns of Ironton, is foreman.

ARMISTICE DAY DANCE NOV. 11

Staged by the World War Veterans Saturday Evening at Elks Hall, a Gala Event

HEDSTROM'S ORCHESTRA PLAYS

This is the First of the Veterans' Organization Winter Activities in a Gala Event

The next important event, now that election is over, is the big Armistice Day dance being staged by the World War Veterans Saturday evening at Elks hall.

Hedstrom's snappy five-piece orchestra has been engaged for the occasion, and they have promised to make every number a real toe-ticker. There will be plenty of encores, too, which are always appreciated.

The committee on this dance meets this evening at the Hickethier barber shop at 7:30 to make final preparations for the hop and they promise that their plans include a mighty good time for everyone that attends.

This is the first of the Veterans' winter activities, but they expect to put on a number of strong social events during the season, and it goes without saying that each will prove very popular.

The local post of the World War Veterans has outgrown its present quarters and will soon move into a larger and finer home, which speaks well for the growth of the institution.

Beaumont Crawled from Car by Breaking Glass, Car a Complete Wreck

A Studebaker sedan, belonging to and driven by Albert Beaumont of 1007 Kingwood street, was struck by a switch engine on the 8th street crossing about 5:30 Thursday evening. The automobile was turned over several times and badly wrecked.

Beaumont, the only occupant of the car, crawled over the front seat and broke the glass in the rear, through which he made his exit unharmed from the accident.

He claims that he did not see the switchman's warning that the engine was approaching and was hit before he knew that there was any imminent danger.

NEW PARK IN FORMAL OPENING

Set for Saturday, November 11th Matinee and Evening, With a Special Feature

JACKIE COOGAN IN "TROUBLE"

The New Park Theatre opens Saturday, November 11th, matinee and evening, with a big special feature in which the idol of all kids, and of every grown-up who can remember his own kid-days, Jackie Coogan, appears in "Trouble."

Every Brainerd theatre goer saw Jackie in his last picture, "My Boy." Well, he's done it again, but differently and much better. Perhaps many think of the little rascal as only a comedian. That's right, and wrong too. For "Trouble" contains some tragedy, some drama, as well as plenty of comedy. Jackie Coogan gets his audience right by the heart, squeezed a sob out one minute, then chases it away with a good laugh the next.

This is his biggest opportunity, and how he does take advantage of it. Through five of the finest reels that the youngster has ever starred in, he holds the intense interest of every member of the audience. There isn't an uninteresting minute in the entire performance.

Jackie Coogan isn't in "Trouble" alone. Nope. When a feller needs a friend he usually finds one in his dog. That's the way the youngster feels about Queeny, a most intelligent canine who co-starred with the kid in "Peck's Bad Boy".

The little star and Queeny are both in heaps of trouble, but his little dumb friend sees the boy through to a happy finish, and you leave the theatre feeling that you're more than ever a friend of the kid, whom critics have named the "Child Mansfield". You'll also have that feeling of having spent a most interesting and enjoyable evening. You go home more than ever a friend of all the other kids in the universe, beside.

HIGH SCHOOL 6, ATHLETICS 0

Work of High School Line in Holding Opponents Showed Much Intensive Practice

HEIKKINEN 90 YARD GAIN Last Two Quarters of Game Cut Down to 7½ Minutes Each Because of Darkness

In a practice game Wednesday evening, the high school football team, defeated the Brainerd Athletics by a score of 6 to 0.

The Athletics showed considerable science and speed. They carried the ball in the first quarter to within one yard of the high school's goal from the kick-off, but in the four subsequent downs, they were unable to make the yard gain necessary for a touchdown.

The work of the high school line in holding their opponents in this manner, showed much intensive practice and a big improvement from most of their work during the season.

Heikkinen of the high school, got away for a 90 yard gain, but was called back on account of his line being offside. He made the only touchdown of the game in the second quarter.

The last two quarters of the game had to be cut down to seven and one-half minutes each on account of darkness.

This practice game was played to help put the high school eleven in better trim for the big game at Wadena at the Armistice Day celebration, Saturday.

DISTRICT COURT PROCEEDINGS

In district court Thursday afternoon, the case of Elmer E. Hartman against Frank W. Crockett was dismissed on motion of the plaintiff before it had an opportunity to get to the jury.

Friday morning case No. 15, Harry M. Adams against Maggie E. Hunt was being tried. Court however, was dismissed at noon until Monday morning, there being no sessions on Armistice day, Saturday.

The grand jury is expected to report this afternoon, but at the time of going to press were still in session. E. R. Burns of Ironton, is foreman.

BIG GAMES ON SATURDAY'S FOOTBALL CARD

By HENRY L. FARRELL
United Press Sports Editor

New York, Nov. 10.—Some of the biggest battles of the season are carded for tomorrow's "Armistice Day" football program.

Battles between old traditional rivals and the first of the conflicts between the "Big Three," as well as several fine intersectional combats, are the features of the best card of the year to date. The biggest battles of the day are:

Harvard vs. Princeton at Cambridge.

Pittsburgh vs. Pennsylvania at Philadelphia.

Dartmouth vs. Cornell at New York.

Notre Dame vs. the Army at West Point.

Georgetown vs. Georgia Tech at Atlanta.

Harvard is regarded by many critics as the most powerful eleven of the east and one that compares favorably with the teams of old, when the Crimson was "the" power of the gridiron.

Princeton, on the other hand, started the season with perhaps the poorest prospects of any major team of the east. The Tigers have come fast, however, and while there are few that look for anything but a Harvard victory, the experts all expect a grand fight from the Tigers.

Penn will meet the second big test of the season against Pittsburgh. The Philadelphians look upon Pitt, Cornell and Penn State as their most deadly rivals and this first of their three big battles is sure to bring out everything Johnny Heisman has taught them. Pittsburgh hasn't been living to old Pitt standards this season, but they've been pointing for this game and Penn does not consider them anything of an easy thing.

Cornell in Dartmouth gets the first big test of the year. Gil Doble must have a great team at Ithaca, even if the "Big Red" has had rather easy going. Any team that can come close to a "point a minute" must be a good organization against any opposition. Dartmouth always fights and that's one of the main things in football.

When Notre Dame lost virtually a whole team last fall, eastern critics made light of the plight with the theory—"Knute Rockne will make another good team." And he has. The Hoosiers may not have the spectacular team of 1919, 1920 and 1921, but they have another good team and they are bound to give the Army a great fight.

West Point is represented by one of the most powerful teams of the east and the cadets have reached the point where they regard a victory over Notre as important, almost, and as much to be desired as a defeat of the Navy.

Notre Dame, with their well known flashy open offense, always draws a big crowd to the West Point plains and it may be bigger this year.

Some idea about the final standing of the big teams in the south may be acquired in the games between Georgia Tech and Georgetown and between Centre and Washington and Lee.

California, out of the championship of the Pacific Coast, is expected to have an easy time with Washington.

McGill coming down from Montreal to meet Syracuse; St. Xavier's journeying from Cincinnati to play the Navy at Annapolis; and Wabash against Washington and Jefferson provide three very interesting intersectional games.

AMUSEMENTS

Your Favorite Woman

Which type of woman do you prefer? The contented sort who are satisfied to be just wives? Or the restless, excitement-seeking young woman who has ambitions to fill a broader sphere in the world? It is a heroine of the latter type that is portrayed in Robert W. Chambers' popular story, "The Restless Sex." This novel, which ran originally in a prominent magazine, has been pictured with Marion Davies as the star, and will occupy the screen at the Lyceum theatre for tonight and Saturday.

The story centers around Stephanie

Cleland, adopted daughter of a rich New Yorker, who has had from birth a craving for excitement. Her restlessness leads her into a loveless marriage, from which a real romance and a turn of fate extricates her. Ralph Kellard and Carlyle Blackwell have the chief male roles supporting Miss Davies. Robert Z. Leonard directed the picture, which was produced by Cosmopolitan for Paramount release.

The Greatest Moment in Life of a Star

Every actor or actress has a great moment in life—and tiny Jackie Coogan is no exception.

His great moment—though he was not aware of it—came in "Trouble."

Jackie Coogan
in "Trouble"

the new First National attraction scheduled for Saturday and Sunday at the New Park.

One scene of the picture shows Jackie's foster father, a wife beater, on trial, and the child is called as a witness for the prosecution. Standing before the judge and jury he gives a recital of the case and a description of the fight that is so vividly done the director did not have to resort to a single "fade back" and only used two titles. Critics in New York have seized on this as one of the finest pieces of acting the screen ever has known. Quinn Martin, in the New York World, wrote:

"There is a ten minute courtroom scene in 'Trouble,' Jackie Coogan's new photoplay, that ought to make several of our leading men of voting age ashamed of themselves. This child of seven years takes the old familiar witness chair situation and acts his part so impressively that a picture whose intent it is to be funny suddenly develops into a tense heart touching drama. The little boy, whose ragged hair and twisted cap come just to the knees of the cross-questioning district attorney, plays for ten minutes as compelling a part as has been seen on the screen for months. It is superb acting. The fact that this is a baby does not enter into the matter at all. It is a piece of screen acting that would be a credit to any emotional actor in America."

It is this scene that inspired another critic to brand Jackie the "child Mansfield."
